Vivien loses bow and arrows, but M.O. win

Vivian Spencer stowed her archery equipment on top of the manager taking her to Crystal Palace on Sunday to represent Crusade M.O. in a match against the Palace.

As a note on luck in another story the police fire equipment had played the police off on route. A quick race revealed to team, and the police were unable to help.

So Vivian had to compare with hired equipment, but still did not form well enough to help M.O. win this Allion Round event by 1415 to 1160.

Mary Dutton was top women's scorer for M.O. and Peter Fatchure was best for the team.

Happy tailpiece—The missing equipment was handed in to the police and Vivian recovered it on Monday.
